Master's Degree Programme in

INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

(MICLaw)

Specialising inArctic Law and Governance or
Transcultural Business Law

66 I TRULY BELIEVE THAT MORE CAREER PATHS AND OPPORTUNITIES ARE OPEN TO ME NOW.66

Students say that studying at ULapland makes a difference in your life. The legal knowledge and expertise gained in the Arctic will help you pursue your goals and secure interesting career opportunities varying from entrepreneurship and management to NGOs and research.

The MICLaw programme offers you modern expertise and education where you will be in the forefront of legal research and the degree will open diverse career paths in the field.

Arctic Law and Governance covers topics like climate change, ocean governance the rights of indigenous people, international environmental law, law making and policy making in the Arctic. It develops skills for working with international instruments, case law and literature with a view to doing research and engaging in legal praxis.

Transcultural Business Law develops professional capacities to encounter new transcultural elements in a globalised world and provides the tools for understanding the interaction between culture and law. The studies enhance skills in analysing encounters in legal and cultural contexts ranging from new forms of international economic cooperation between nationstates to global business.

International atmosphere, winter cycling, the hub for Arctic research and development, cultural events, interactive studies, campfire coffee, academic freedom, Santa Claus, international collaboration in legal education, reindeer, cozy study environment, northern lights, museums, multidisciplinary research, novel and internationally recognized legal expertise, nature trails, Finnish education system, wide range of student services, ice swimming, student associations, top class professors, Arctic way of life.

Master's Degree Programme in International and Comparative Law (MICLaw)

Degree

Master of International and

Comparative Law

Major Subject Specialisations International and Comparative Law

• Arctic Law and Governance

Transcultural Business Law

Credits Duration of Studies Application Period Studies Begin Eligibility

120 FCTS

2 years (full time) December – January

September

- a Bachelor's degree in a relevant field
- good command of English

ulapland.fi/miclaw ulapland.fi/admissions

