Course-specific feedback form for doctoral candidates

Course code and title
Date

What did you learn?
What factors supported your learning? Was there something that hindered it?
In what ways did the course support your doctoral research?
What was good about the course?
What changes or improvements would you make?

The Graduate School aims to provide a high-quality and engaging research environment for our doctoral candidates. Your feedback is crucially important, as it provides us with valuable information about the quality of our doctoral training. All feedback received will be discussed by the doctoral programme's executive committee and the University-level research development committee.

Thank you!
